THE CLASSROOM

Classes will follow a very hands-on approach. Students should bring laptops to the class so that they can actively follow along with the material. The in-class exercises are designed for the student to complete during class.

You must exhibit civil, professional behavior at all times during class. The use of cell phones or other devices to send or receive messages during class is strictly prohibited.

GRADING POLICY

Grading for the course will be based on four exams and one in-class assignment. All exams are closed book/closed notes and must be completed individually. The exams will be given during the normal class time in the computer labs at the William T. Young Library (Rooms WTYL B-35 and B-25).

Each exam is worth 20 points and the in-class assignment will be worth 20 points.

	Points
1 Assignment	20
4 Exams (20 points each)	80
Total Points	100

The in-class assignment will be due at the end of class on the last day of classes, October 2. The dates for the in-class exams are September 6, September 13, September 20, and September 27. On these four exam dates we will meet in the computer rooms (WTYL B-35 and B-25) at the William T. Young Library.

The grading scale is as follows: 90% and above is an A, 80% to 89.99% is a B, 70% to 79.99% is a C, 60% to 69.99% is a D, and below 60% is an E.

This course follows University Policy regarding cheating and plagiarism. Students should refer to Student Rights and Responsibilities Handbook (6.3.0-6.3.2). Students should be aware of the seriousness of such offenses.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Students are expected to attend all classes. Students need to notify the professor of absences prior to exams/assignments when possible. S.R. 5.2.4.2 defines the following as acceptable reasons for excused absences: (a) serious illness, (b) illness or death of family member, (c) University-related trips, (d) major religious holidays, and (e) other circumstances found to fit 'reasonable cause for nonattendance' by the professor.

Students anticipating an absence for a major religious holiday are responsible for notifying the instructor in writing of anticipated absences due to their observance of such holidays no later than the last day in the semester to add a class. Information regarding dates of major religious holidays may be obtained through the religious liaison, Mr. Jake Karnes (859-257-2754).

Students may be asked to verify their absences in order for them to be considered excused. Senate Rule 5.2.4.2 states that faculty have the right to request 'appropriate verification' when students claim an excused absence because of illness or death in the family. Appropriate notification of absences due to university-related trips is required prior to the absence.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Per university policy, students shall not plagiarize, cheat, or falsify or misuse academic records. Students are expected to adhere to University policy on cheating and plagiarism in all courses. The minimum penalty for a first offense is a zero on the assignment on which the offense occurred. If the offense is considered severe or the student has other academic offenses on their record, more serious penalties, up to suspension from the university may be imposed.

Plagiarism and cheating are serious breaches of academic conduct. Each student is advised to become familiar with the various forms of academic dishonesty as explained in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities. Complete information can be found at the following website: <http://www.uky.edu/Ombud>. A plea of ignorance is not acceptable as a defense against the charge of academic dishonesty. It is important that you review this information as all ideas borrowed from others need to be properly credited.

Part II of Student Rights and Responsibilities states that all academic work, written or otherwise, submitted by students to their instructors or other academic supervisors, is expected to be the result of their own thought, research, or self-expression. In cases where students feel unsure about the question of plagiarism involving their own work, they are obliged to consult their instructors on the matter before submission.

When students submit work purporting to be their own, but which in any way borrows ideas, organization, wording or anything else from another source without appropriate acknowledgement of the fact, the students are guilty of plagiarism. Plagiarism includes reproducing someone else's work, whether it be a published article, chapter of a book, a paper from a friend or some file, or something similar to this. Plagiarism also includes the practice of employing or allowing another person to alter or revise the work which a student submits as his/her own, whoever that other person may be.

Students may discuss assignments among themselves or with an instructor or tutor, but when the actual work is done, it must be done by the student, and the student alone. When a student's assignment involves research in outside sources of information, the student must carefully acknowledge exactly what, where and how he/she employed them. If the words of someone else are used, the student must put quotation marks around the passage in question and add an appropriate indication of its origin. Making simple changes while leaving the organization, content and phraseology intact is plagiaristic. However, nothing in these Rules shall apply to those ideas which are so generally and freely circulated as to be a part of the public domain (Section 6.3.1).
